

Letter from the President.

Jordan University of Science and Technology (JUST) is a leading teaching and research university in Jordan and in the Middle East. Our Outstanding students, alongside our staff, are what make JUST a distinguished institution of higher education in Jordan and the region. Since its establishment in 1986, JUST impact on science and technology has been felt in Jordan and the Arab region through our reputable graduates who are occupying vital positions in Medical professions, Engineering and Architecture, Agriculture, Sciences, Computer Science and Information Technology.

At JUST we are devoted to provide our students with top quality education in all fields of science and technology. We offer a challenging intellectual environment with a wide range of undergraduate and graduate degree programs . Students can choose from a large pool of academic specializations that fit their individual needs.

Our student body comes from more than 60 countries which bring about highly diverse culture to our campus. About one fourth of our students are international students.

JUST persists to attract and retain outstanding faculty and administrative staff who are distinguished in their fields, and pleased to join JUST family. Our faculties comprise multifaceted staff who have varied experience. We are honored to have such distinguished members who have made key contributions in their fields .

JUST campus is modern in terms of facilities and resources that serve both teaching and research. JUST is always committed to the improvement of all facilities that will provide the environment and opportunities for the students to excel in all they do. These improvements include equipping the labs, scientific utilities and research centers with the most advanced equipments and technological means of education in addition to equipping the campus to become the first digital campus with wireless internet in Jordan.

In addition to its role as an institute of higher education, JUST has always committed itself to serve its community in every way possible. Many of the activities carried out by our faculty members and staff are intended to serve the local communities in Jordan.

Whether you are a prospective student seeking an undergraduate or graduate degree, a parent or one of our alumni, I invite you to visit JUST Campus or browse through our website www.just.edu.jo to learn about our educational programs and research activities. Be sure that JUST is the place to pursue your future career and fulfill your dreams.
