

First: Free treatment procedures

The initial examination of the mouth and teeth takes place in the initial examination and oral diagnosis clinics to determine the initial treatment plan, and after the patient signs the written authorization form in which he expresses his consent to treatment in educational clinics; where treatment is free or at low price for some procedures, patients are directed to the appropriate clinics according to the patients treatment plan. The treatment is completed by the undergraduate students in the clinics under the supervision of the specialists.
