Philosophy of Care

I consider medicine as an art of taking care of a person as a whole. Neurological illness and symptoms often provoke anxiety and fear in patients and their families. I take the necessary time for in-depth evaluation to help relieve those fears. Each person should be treated to their individual needs.

Clinical Interests/Special Procedures Performed:

Cerebrovascular Diseases, Stroke, Thrombolysis, Neurologic Rehabilitation and Post-Stroke-Care, Headache, Movement Disorders, Multiple Sclerosis, Neuropathic Pain.

Curriculum Vitae

Majdi Al Qawasmeh M.D.
Consultant Neurologist

Current Position:

Consultant Neurologist and Assoc. Professor at Department of Neurosciences and Clinical faculty member at Jordan University of Science and Technology J.U.S.T and Department of Neurology in King Abdullah University Hospital/ Jordan K.A.U.H.

The hospital is a 800 bedded Multi-care facility Hospital. The Department of Neurology has 36 beds including Stroke Unit with 10 beds and post-stroke care with 6 beds.

Most neurological conditions are managed in the outpatient clinic with diseases including migraine, movement disorders, multiple sclerosis, myasthenia gravis, epilepsy, peripheral nerve disorder & peripheral neuropathy.

Care of patients with long-term neurological conditions (for example motor neuron diseases, dementia, multiple sclerosis and Parkinson's disease) is an important part of this work. Managing acute neurological emergencies (including Stroke and other cerebrovascular disorders) is an increasing part of many neurologists' routine duties.

I have a broad experience in neurological disease with particular interest in emergency neurology, stroke and cerebrovascular disease and movement disorders. I'm used to working closely with a wide cross-section of medical specialties and crucially within multidisciplinary teams including specialist nurses.

Work Experience and Professional Training:

- 04. 2016- Current Associate Professor at Department of Neuro sciences and Clinical faculty member at Jordan University of Science and Technology/Jordan.
- 04. 2016- Current Consultant Neurologist at Neurology Department in King Abdullah University Hospital/ Jordan.
