

Dr. Marcus Engelschalk , Private Dental Office for Periodontology and Implantology Munich, Germany

Address:

Dr. Marcus Engelschalk
Private Dental Office for Periodontology and Implantology
Prof. Dr. J. Gonzales & Dr. M. Engelschalk
Frauenplatz 11
D - 80331 Munich
Tel: +49 (0)89-2324198-0
Fax: +49 (0)89-2324198-198 office@slow-digital-dentistry.de www.slow-digital-dentistry.de

Short curriculum vitae

Dr. Marcus Engelschalk

- 1997 State Examination at the University of Würzburg, Germany
- 1997 – 2000 Postgraduate studies at the Universities of Zurich and Vienna and assistant doctor in Munich
- 2000 establishing Dental office Dr. M. Engelschalk, Munich
- 2002 – 2014 Attending physician for oral surgery and implantology at the Arabella Clinic, Munich
- Since 2014 Attending physician for oral surgery and implantology at the isaAOP, München
- 2014 moving the dental office in Munich and associate of the Dental office for periodontology and implantology together with Prof. José Gonzales in Munich, Germany
- since 2001 lecturer for international scientific courses and congress on implantology, laser dentistry, IOS and CAD CAM in implantology. Certified in implantology by the DGI
- Specialization in oral surgery and implant dentistry
- Focus of research in intraoral scans (IOS), CAD CAM based prosthetics on implants and digital implantology
- 2016 – 2021 Chairman of MINEC Germany
- 2021 Speaker at the Part-time M.S.c. in Esthetic Dentistry at the Goethe Universität, Frankfurt a.M., Germany
- 2021 Visiting Professor at the Universiapolis, Int. University of Agadir
- Since 2021 Boardmember of MINEC International
- Member of International Academy for Digital Dental Medicine (IADDM) and Dental Digital Society (DDS) and different scientific associations
- Ambassador for SlowDentistry® in Germany
- Establishing the SlowDigitalDentistry Concept
- Editor-in-Chief for the International Journal of Future Implantology (a MINEC brand)